DECREE

IN THE NAME OF GOD. AMEN.

“Likewise, parishes which are too small should be united insofar as the situation demands it and circumstances permit.” St. Paul VI, Apostolic Letter motu proprio, Ecclesiae Sanctae, n. 21, (1), August 6, 1966

Changing demographics have affected the size and wealth of the Archdiocese of Chicago and the vitality of her parishes. This is particularly true in the City of Chicago itself, where the total population has fallen by 21% since 1970, from 3,366,957 to an estimated 2,686,530 in 2020. The archdiocese has many vacant, old, and underused parochial buildings and fewer priests to pastor our faith communities.

According to the US Census Bureau, the Archdiocese of Chicago (Cook and Lake Counties in Illinois) had an estimated total population of 5,881,250 in 2018. The 2018 Annuario Pontificio indicated our archdiocese had 345 parishes serving a Catholic population of 2,512,000: an average of 7,281 Catholics per parish. According to the same source, the Archdiocese of Los Angeles had a total population of 11,519,517, with 287 parishes for a Catholic population of 4,362,000: an average of 15,199 Catholics per parish. For the Archdiocese of New York, the figures were 2,656,987 Catholics in 294 parishes, an average 9,037 Catholics per parish. A good number of our parishes were founded in the first half of the last century or earlier. Many were established for national, linguistic, or ethnic groups that no longer reside in the archdiocese or in the neighborhoods where they once flourished.

Many of our parishes are unable to support themselves and have been receiving financial subsidies from the archdiocese. From fiscal year 2012 through fiscal year 2019 the Archdiocese of Chicago provided $162,332,527.00 in support to parishes and Catholic schools: $42,620,585.00 to 106 parishes and $119,712,942.00 to 83 Catholic schools. This was due entirely to the generosity of the faithful people of the archdiocese and other gracious donors. The archdiocese cannot continue this level of financial support. Our mission is to convert our parishes, helping them to become more vital, that is, active centers of Christian discipleship, evangelical mission, scholarship, and charitable outreach. To achieve this mission, the parishes must have a growing or, at least, stable membership and means to support themselves.

Nearly six years ago, inspired by the experience of St. Francis of Assisi before the cross of the ruined church of San Damiano, and by the Holy Father's dream of “a missionary option ... capable of transforming everything” (Pope Francis, Apostolic Exhortation Evangelii Gaudium, n.

27, November 24, 2013), and after wide and continuing consultation among the clergy and lay faithful of the Archdiocese of Chicago, particularly in the Presbyteral Council, we embarked on the inauguration of Renew My Church (RMC), a multi-year process aimed at obtaining and preserving the conversion and vitality of our parishes. It is my intention that every parish join with some of its neighbors (groupings) and plan the future. Careful planning will create a menu of possibilities. We are identifying parishes to be reconfigured through pastoral coordination with neighboring parishes, divisions, unions, and other structural and governance changes.

This decree concerns three parishes located within a territory of approximately seven square miles in the Jefferson Park and Portage Park neighborhoods of the Northwest side of the City of Chicago: St. Bartholomew Parish (founded 1917), 4949 West Patterson Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60641-3512; Our Lady of Victory Parish (founded 1909), 5212 West Agatite Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60630-3778; and St. Pascal Parish (founded 1914), 3935 North Melvina Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60634-2527.

Recently the parishes have been serving an area of the City in which the population is changing from large numbers of Polish-speaking faithful to a growing population of Spanish-speaking faithful needing liturgical services and pastoral care in Spanish. Already Sunday Mass celebrated in Spanish at St. Bartholomew Parish encompasses 58% of the attendance, the remainder is in English. Meanwhile, Mass is celebrated only in English at Our Lady of Victory Parish and in English (65%) and Polish (35%) at St. Pascal Parish. The trends indicate an accelerating decrease in Polish-speaking faithful and a larger accelerating increase in Spanish-speaking faithful and a younger English-speaking population. To meet these needs the reconfiguration of parishes in the area is required.

The reconfiguration will provide an ability to better serve the growing Hispanic population, continue to serve the remaining faithful of Polish heritage by reinforcing Polish ministry in the parishes immediately north and south of St. Pascal Parish, and to address the needed outreach and evangelization among a growing and younger English-speaking population. The first move toward this endeavor is to begin changes that will not burden any of the parishes with the need to serve a tri-lingual community. To that end Mass will no longer be celebrated in Polish at St. Pascal Church, leaving room for increased services to Spanish-speaking neighbors.

From 2009 to 2019 there was a 21% decline in Sunday attendance at St. Bartholomew Parish. During the same period the decline was 35% at Our Lady of Victory Parish and 40% at St. Pascal Parish. In 2019, St. Bartholomew Parish had income of $497,810.00 and expenses of $679,589.00, leaving an operating deficit of $181,779.00. At Our Lady of Victory Parish, the 2019 figures were income of $482,864.00, expenses of $564,583.00, and operating deficit of $81,791.00. At St. Pascal Parish, the same year's figures were income of $700,524.00, expenses of $816,792.00, and operating deficit of $116,268.00. There is a $2,315,283.00 debt at St. Bartholomew Parish and significant capital investment needs in each of the parishes.

Following consultations last year with lay and clergy members of the parishes, including input from parishioners at large, a report was submitted to the Archdiocesan Standards and Recommendations Commission, a group of lay and clergy representatives from across the Archdiocese of Chicago. Recently, the Commission submitted its recommendations to the pastoral leadership of the archdiocese. The recommendations proposed that St. Bartholomew Parish, Our Lady of Victory Parish, and St. Pascal Parish be extinguished as separate juridic persons in the Church and united to form one new territorial parish within combined territory of St. Bartholomew Parish and St. Pascal Parish and part of the territory of Our Lady of Victory Parish, with St. Pascal Church designated the new parish church.

The proposal is supported by demographic changes in the area, and by data mentioned or attached to this decree. The three parishes now serve an area with an increasing population of Spanish-speaking Catholics, a decreasing Polish-speaking population, and an increasing need for outreach to a growing and younger English-speaking group of Catholics. A union of the parishes avoids the need to assign more than one priest as pastor and saves the expenses of funding more than one governing administration. The continuing economic health of the faith community depends upon uniting the faithful as fully as possible. Moreover, the territory of the proposed parish will be reasonable for this area of the City of Chicago.

THEREFORE, know that I, Cardinal Blase J. Cupich, Archbishop of Chicago, according to the norms of canon 50, canon 127 §§1 & 3, canon 166, and canon 515 §2 of the Code of Canon Law, have before me the proposal that St. Bartholomew Parish, Our Lady of Victory Parish, and St. Pascal Parish, all in the Jefferson Park and Portage Park neighborhoods of the City of Chicago, be extinguished as separate juridic persons in the Church and united to form a single new territorial parish within the combined territory of St. Bartholomew Parish and St. Pascal Parish and part of the territory of Our Lady of Victory Parish, with St. Pascal Church designated the parish church. Know also, I convened the Presbyteral Council of the Archdiocese of Chicago via video conference over the internet on December 18, 2020. Then, after hearing the Presbyteral Council and receiving its vote of 28 for and 7 against the proposal, I accepted the Presbyteral Council's majority advice and now, invoking the Holy Spirit,

decree the following:

1. Effective July 1, 2021, the above-mentioned St. Bartholomew Parish, Our Lady of Victory Parish, and St. Pascal Parish will be extinguished as separate juridic persons in the Church and united to form a single new juridic person, a territorial parish to be known, ad interim, as Our Lady of Victory and SS. Bartholomew and Pascal Parish;
2. The missions of the three extinguished parishes will be subsumed completely into that of the new Our Lady of Victory and SS. Bartholomew and Pascal Parish;
